

THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT LINCOLN.

A great and good man has fallen. The announcement of the death of the President of the United States, by the hand of an assassin, has produced a pause in the current thoughts of the most heedless among us. It has spread a gloom everywhere, and expressions of sorrow and deep sympathy flow from the heart of every friend of his country. In connection with this sad event, we adopt the very appropriate remarks of a contemporary.

"Probably no event in the calendar of time, certainly no event in the history of this country, forebodes so much of evil or was so charged with calamity to the human race as this. The deed itself lacked no element of horror or atrocity.

The time at which the deed was done was most fatal and deplorable. At no season during his administration had President Lincoln been in so commanding a position of usefulness to his fellowmen.

In a moment like the present, in the midst of a calamity so astounding and crushing, human judgment of itself is powerless to divine or control the immediate future, and it becomes a Christian people to fervently and sincerely invoke, and calmly rely upon the assistance and guidance of God."

THE NATION'S CALAMITY.

Before this paper reaches our readers the full particulars of the sad event, which has plunged a whole nation in gloom, will be well known. We copy the following vivid picture of the cold-blooded murder, taken from the "Boston Advertiser."

"The brief and momentous scene which closed the entertainment at Ford's Theatre will never be forgotten by any one of the thousand or more who saw it. The play, with which all were familiar, was progressing smoothly to its climax. The scene was a front flat. There was only one character upon the stage, Lord Dunderbary. Suddenly one of those stupid comedians, which we all know by heart, was interrupted by the sharp report of a pistol. The audience had time to wonder what new incident of the play was thus heralded, when there came another and stranger interruption. A dark, lithe form vaulted over the railing of the President's box which was canopied with the American flag. As the intruder struck the stage, he fell forward, but soon gathered himself up, and turned erect, in full view of the audience.

They saw a slim, tall, graceful figure, elegantly clad, waving a dagger with a gesture which none but a tragedian by profession would have made; a classic face, pale as marble, lighted up by two gleaming eyes—which had made crowds shudder often in past days, when Gloster struggled with death in mimic frenzy—and surrounded by waves of curling jet black hair.

The assassin, with calmness which could only come of careful premeditation, uttered the words "Sic semper tyrannis," in tones so sharp and clear that every person in the theater heard them. He said something more, but in that second of time Mrs. Lincoln had screamed in horror, the unusual occurrence had created an excitement, the audience had begun to rise, and no one heard the words distinctly. Booth who already heard his name pronounced by a score of lips, waited for no further bravado, but rushed across the stage, down the long passage behind the scenes, thrusting his knife at a man who seemed to interrupt his flight, and out by the stage door into the darkness."

By the latest accounts we learn that Booth has not been captured, but has been traced as far as Tanqua.

About the same time that the President was assassinated, another villain attempted the murder of W. H. Seward. To show the desperate nature of the attack, we may state that three persons were dangerously wounded in their attempts to secure the would-be assassin. By the latest telegrams we are glad to learn that the Secretary and his son are doing well.

The Celebration.

We regret that we have neither time, nor space to give a full account of the celebration in Eaton, on Friday last. The whole proceedings were carried out with a spirit, that showed that the hearts of the people were in the work. The streets were lined with flags and evergreens. Services were held in the various churches, at 10 1/2 A. M. and in the afternoon eloquent and patriotic speeches were made by Messrs. Albott, Haines, and Marsh. At night the principle streets were illuminated. Among the best displays, we may mention the names of Col. F. T. Foster and J. P. Acton, Esq. The whole proceedings passed off pleasantly.

REMOVAL.

On, and after Monday next, the 24th inst., our friends will find our office in the third story of the building we now occupy; the second story over STEPHENS and Co's Dry Goods Store.

Apology.
Our friends must excuse us for the lateness of our issue this week. We will do better next week.

MEETINGS AT THE COURT HOUSE.

On Saturday morning, a meeting of the citizens was held at the Court House, for the purpose of taking appropriate action in regard to the murder of the President. Resolutions were passed, and some speeches made. A proclamation was issued by the Mayor, calling upon all lovers of the country to put on mourning for thirty days.

On Sunday, services were held in the various places of worship, and a large meeting was held at the Court House in the afternoon.

THE NEWS.

Our gallant soldiers have captured Mobile, and with it some thousands of prisoners.

Raleigh, N. C., has been captured by Sherman.

There is a rumor of a Union defeat in Alabama, but we have no reliable account.

Local and Miscellaneous.

Great Excitement.
Great excitement has been caused by the announced advent of the Great Union Combination Menagerie and Circus, with its unrivaled troupe of performers. It is to be here on the 4th of May next. Of course everybody will go. We do not offer have an exhibition of this kind in Eaton, and when it does come, it should be well patronized.

See the Card of Dr. Stephens, in another column.

CINCINNATI.
Those of our readers who are in the habit of buying their Dry Goods in Cincinnati, will do well to call upon Marshall & Bro's, 56 West Fifth Street. They keep always on hand, a splendid stock, and sell at very low rates. Their stock of Carpets is unrivaled, for quality and cheapness.

MENS WEAR.—Gentlemen visiting Cincinnati should not neglect to call upon R. O. McCracken, 9 West Fourth Street. Those wanting Shirts, Linens, Collars, Gloves, in fact anything and everything a man can want in that way, should purchase of McCracken. They will find his prices suit the times.

Panic! Panic!!

DEEM & LAKE are now selling Dry Goods at prices which are positively "panicky." Every day they are receiving addition to their Stock; which is rendered necessary by the continued increase of their trade. We need not enumerate the varieties of Dry and Fancy Goods, for Ladies know best what they need, and at the above store they are sure to find it. The superior quality of the Goods, and the lowness of price will surprise them. D. and L. have also now on hand a large stock of Hats and Caps, and Boots and Shoes, which they are offering at reduced rates.

APRIL 20, 31.

Reduce Prices.

We have often had occasion to speak of Mr. A. COFFMAN. He has now received a first class stock of Dry Goods of all kinds, which he is selling at remarkably low prices. ANDY has watched the Markets, and bought just at the right time. Ladies should pay him an early visit, and inspect his stock of Silks, Muslins, Prints, Gingham, Dress Goods &c. Mr. C. has also just received a large Stock of Queensware, which our friends who need anything in that line, will do well to go and see. Crowds visit the Store daily, so call immediately.

APRIL 20-31.

WOLF CREEK NURSERY.

Messrs MORSE & O'BRYEN, Agents for Wampler, Tillison and Co., of the Wolf Creek Nursery, Dayton, are now in town, and are prepared to take orders for every variety of Fruit Trees, Evergreens and Flowers. We recommend these gentlemen, with confidence to the public.

Patterson of Preble county, Ohio, and James Berry of Clinton county Indiana, are hereby notified that on the Eleventh day of April 1865, the said John L. Owens filed his petition against them in the court of common pleas, of Preble county, Ohio, which is now pending where the plaintiff says that on the 28th day of June 1861 in fee simple of the south-east quarter of section twenty, township six, range two east, in Preble county, Ohio, and sold and intended to convey to Garret Y. Hopkins about twenty acres of land, by metes and bounds particularly stated in the petition, out of the north-west corner of said quarter, but by mistake the same was erroneously described in the deed of conveyance, by metes and bounds given in the petition as being in the north-west corner of section twenty-one, township six, range two east, that the same was afterwards conveyed by said Hopkins and wife, by said erroneous description to Robert Harris; that said Harris and wife afterwards conveyed said premises, by said erroneous description to William Kindel and Maria Ann Kindel, and that said Kindel and wife afterwards conveyed said premises to the plaintiff and those under whom he claims title by said conveyances, have been in quiet possession of said premises as correctly described, over thirty years, that plaintiff is the equitable owner of said premises as correctly described, and asks that the legal title may be decreed to him in fee simple; the plaintiff further says that said Kindel and Reed never paid the purchase money of said premises, to the said Robert Harris. That while the purchase money was so unpaid, James Berry purchased and obtained from Kindel a conveyance of a lot, in the north-west corner of said premises as correctly described, forty feet wide and ninety feet long on which he stands a small house, but that said Berry to Berry was never recorded; that the plaintiff paid said premises of Kindel through said Berry who concealed his ownership of said small lot from plaintiff, and plaintiff through said Berry became the purchaser of Harris's mortgage for said purchase money that plaintiff was at the time of his purchase ignorant of Berry's claim; that Berry afterwards sold and conveyed said small lot to William R. Patterson who is asserting title thereto; and plaintiff claims that said Berry's purchase was subject to the purchase money due to Harris and the plaintiff has been substituted in all Harris rights under said mortgage for the purchase money, and that said Berry not having had his deed recorded as required by statute the same as against plaintiff is invalid, and asks that said deed from Kindel to Berry and the deed from Berry to Patterson may be set aside as invalid.
